

Record attendance

Over 300 visitors, the largest number since the event began 28 years ago, toured the eight attractions on the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Spring pilgrimage.

Antique bottle collection

Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr. shows her antique bottle collection to Mrs. Phillip Fugh of New Orleans. Most of the bottles were found in the Bay-Waveland area.

Sunny skies and southern hospitality attract record number to annual spring pilgrimage

Come on in!

Mrs. Ronnie Artigues welcomes guests into her Creole-style cottage. The home was designed and built by the Artigues.

Though a brisk spring breeze mused a few hairdos and sent hoop skirts billowing, Wednesday's sunny skies have to receive some of the credit for attracting the largest numbers of visitors ever on the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's annual spring Pilgrimage.

The tour began with registration at the Garden Center, where features included an antique doll collection belonging to Mrs. Alfred Baumgartner and a collection of antique bottles, shown by owner Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr.

Clad in gowns relating to the Bicentennial, garden club members acted as hostesses, and served coffee and cakes to the visitors.

Pilgrimage-goers seemed fascinated with historic Main Street United Methodist Church, which celebrates its 124th birthday this year. Of special interest were the original Communion service and Book of Remembrance, both of which date back to the late 1800's.

Lush blooming azaleas and trailing moss from the many live oaks provided a nostalgic setting for visitors as they roamed the gardens of the Sam Whitfield home. Mrs. Ada Whitfield, wearing a bright green and white trimmed gown, seemed very much "at home" when asking visitors to rest a while under the trees in her spacious backyard. A performance by the Bay-High Ensemble proved to be an entertaining, as well as relaxing, part of the visit.

Antebellum-gowned hostesses, all members of the Breath and Boardman families, were on hand to greet guests arriving at the Charles A. Breath Jr. home. Steeped in history, this home was closed to the public due to illness in the family, but a walk through the back yard gardens was well worth the visit.

The number of antiques featured in the Lucien Gex home seemed to be of much interest to the visitors. The true feeling of southern hospitality has been preserved in the furnishings of the home, and was also evidenced in the smiling welcome of the costumed hostesses.

Large doses of southern hospitality were also found at the Ronald Artigues home, where guests sipped aperitifs and enjoyed the cooling refreshment of the informally planted garden.

Members of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Ladies Auxiliary, all wearing costumes, reminiscent of the American Revolutionary period, acted as hostesses at the noon luncheon.

The menu included green salad, pineapple and cherry chicken, peas with bacon, squash casserole, wild rice and an appetizing assortment of desserts served informally on red and white checked tablecloths holding dried flower arrangements in the Bicentennial colors.

The Roy F. Amedee home, first tour stop after the luncheon, provided a change of pace with the Jamaican style architecture. Of special interest was the replica of a West Indies fern pole, and the home's bright yellow kitchen.

The sounds of a strumming banjo welcomed visitors to the Thomas B. Whittington home, final stop on the pilgrimage. Hostesses wore calico and gingham checked dresses to represent pioneer women, complementing the home's rustic cedar facade.

Following the pilgrimage, many visitors conducted their own tour throughout the city, commenting on the many azaleas and wisteria now in bloom, and often stopping for a final, wistful look at the featured homes.

Garden Club hostesses

Breath home hostesses

This trio, all members of the Breath and Boardman families, served as hostesses at the Charles A. Breath home. They include, from left, Mrs. Ada Whitfield, Mrs. Ellen Breath, and another, Mrs. Ellen Breath.

Nostalgic, contemporary eras blend during Mobile pilgrimage

By CAROLE LANGE
MOBILE, ALA.—The sixth annual Mobile Spring Pilgrimage offers visitors a blend of the nostalgic and the contemporary in the numerous homes, historical sites, and special events open to the public during the seven regularly scheduled tours. Through April 4, the "Mobile Bicentennial Tour," includes tours from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. on weekdays and 1-5 p.m. on Sundays of homes and sites in the Oakleigh Garden District, Old Dauphinway, Spring Hill, Church Street East, Summerville, Five Flags and Sunday on the Campus. Price is $5 per tour group rates and student tickets available.

Headquarters for the pilgrimage is the historic Burgess-Maschmeyer House, home of the Mobile Jaycees. Tour hostesses will greet visitors there, and provide maps and instructions for the tour of the day. Once on the route, visitors will find bright pink stripes painted down several of the city streets to guide them on their way.

The Oakleigh Garden District Tour, which concludes today, features the Rencher-Coleman House, a two story Victorian home recently seen in "Southern Living" magazine; Pocase Cottage, a "workingman's cottage" built at the turn of the century; Healey House, a raised Victorian house with steeped roofs, turrets and romantic verandas; Meriwether, home of a nationally acclaimed decorator and built with Federal brick; this home has its original tin roof; and Kilduff-Ray House, a Gothic Victorian cottage with wood-carved details.

The Old Dauphinway Tour, scheduled March 26, includes Macy-Stracener, a Gothic Revival home built circa 1867; Harris House, a well-proportioned Creole cottage that was once a private school; Holmes House, residence of Nancy and Nick Holmes, prominent Alabama preservationists; and Fraser House, a sea captain's home, built in 1871 in the Federal and Greek Revival style situated in an informal Southern garden.

On the Spring Hill Tour, March 27, features include Carolina Hall, one of America's architectural highlights which was restored to its original elegance by the present owners; Palmetto Hall, a Classic design home in a romantic floral setting features museum quality antiques; Austill-Ollinger, a Southern country-style home; and Prince Home, a recently restored home that includes various styles of art and furniture.

The Church Street East Tour, March 28 and 30 and April 2 includes The Waring "Texas," a restored mansion now the den of Mobile's oldest mystic society; Chandler House, an 1854 home restored by the Junior League and detailed with cast iron work; Hamilton-Smith, an elegant 1859 townhouse restored as a private home; Bunker-Brunson House, rescued by its current owners from demolition at its old location on a highway site; and Phelan-Heyniger, an 1872 Italian-style townhouse recently restored.

On the Summerville Tour, March 29 and April 1 and 3, visitors will see Drew Cottage, a restored 1874 cottage with iron lacework typical of the period; Shell Cottage, a home with strong classical influence in the symmetrical plan and Creole architectural detail; Mitchell House, one of the most photographed homes in America, built in 1858; Georgia Cottage, girlhood home of Civil War author Augusta Evans Wilson, the house is a Creole cottage with Greek Revival influence.

Especially in honor of the Bicentennial, the Five Flags Tours March 31 will feature a montage of museum houses including Fort Conde-Charlotte House, D.A.R. Richards House, Guesnard House, Bishop's Rectory, and Admiral Semmes House.

Sunday on the Campus, a tour scheduled April 4, is of Spring Hill College, Alabama's oldest institution of higher learning. Features include the Quadrangle, St. Joseph's Chapel, and Stewartfield.

The city's natural floral scenery, including azaleas, and moss-draped live oaks, lend a Southern charm to the pilgrimage and at most of the homes, ante-bellum gowned hostesses are on hand to greet visitors, point out that particular home's interesting attractions, and cheerfully answer any questions about the home, the city, or even a good restaurant.

KILDUFF-RAY HOUSE—This historic home, built in 1892, features intricately carved wood trim on the gables and bannisters, and inside, panes of etched glass in a hanging basket design, old pine floors, and crystal and brass chandeliers. The home can be seen on the Oakleigh Garden District Tour of the sixth annual Mobile Spring Pilgrimage.

MR. AND MRS. LEON MORLAS

Couple still find happiness 50 years after elopement

In 1926 they were the talk of the town.

Miss Mattie Plunkett, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Randolph Plunkett, announced her heretofore secret marriage to Mr. Leon J. Morlas of New Orleans and family and friends were breathless with titillation.

The Echo announced that marriage following release of the secret as follows:

"The subject of song and jest for ages has been that woman cannot keep a secret. The fallacy of this statement is again proven by the fact that a popular young lady of Bay St. Louis, Miss Mattie Plunkett, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Randolph Plunkett, has strictly kept the secret of her marriage for a bit over two months.

A few days ago the erstwhile Miss Mattie arrived from New Orleans in company with a young gentleman, Mr. Leon Morlas, and she exploded the bomb by introducing him to her father and mother as her husband stating that they had been married since the 29th of March.

Where the parents, like all others possessing beautiful and cultured daughters, would like to have had their little girl get married at home, they became reconciled to the fact that the affair could not be done over and wisely gave their parental blessing.

Mr. Morlas is a young businessman of the Crescent City, where he has been engaged in the creamery business in company with two brothers.

The happy young couple are domiciled at 6326 Hopkins St., where they are at home to their many friends.

The Echo joins in extending congratulations with best wishes for a long and happy life."

The couple now approach the 50th year of their marriage and will celebrate that occasion with an open house Saturday for family and friends.

Mr. Morlas, now a retired dairy owner and electrician, is the son of the late John and Lucine Roquevert Morlas also of New Orleans.

On the couple's golden wedding anniversary, the Echo again extends similar congratulations and best wishes.

Guests for the occasion include Mr. and Mrs. Leon Morlas Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Earthman of Camden, Ark. and their daughters Ellen and Lucine; Mrs. J.T. Brumelow and son David, also of Camden and other family and friends from New Orleans and the Gulf Coast.

Mrs. Lelyn Nybo named library week chairman

Mrs. Lelyn Nybo of Bay St. Louis has been named National Library Week chairman for Hancock County, according to Dr. J.J. Hayden Jr., 1976 State Citizen's Committee chairman, for the annual event.

As local chairman, Mrs. Nybo will coordinate area activities for the National Library Week observance, April 4-10.

"Mississippi has combined two slogans for its 1976 National Library Week observance, 'Free Libraries-Free People and Information Power,' said Mrs. Nybo.

"We want to show how libraries of all types serve to safeguard America's freedom, providing facts not falsehoods, thus giving the American people the opportunity to decide issues and answers for themselves," she explained.

National Library Week is a great time to visit Hancock County's Library System, Mrs. Nybo pointed out.

St. Ann's News

Canada, U.S. to issue Franklin stamp jointly

The U.S. Postal Service and the Canada Post Office announced they will jointly issue commemorative postage stamps with nearly identical designs in observance of the Bicentennial of the United States.

The stamps, each featuring a likeness of Benjamin Franklin, will be issued June 1 in Philadelphia at IN-TERPHIL 76, the seventh U.S. International Philatelic Exhibition. Benjamin Franklin has the distinction of being the first Postmaster General of Canada and the United States.

The stamps differ in language, denomination and slightly in size. The designs feature the same portrait of Franklin against an adaptation of an early North American map. The U.S. denomination is 13 cents while that of Canada is 10 cents.

Both stamps were designed by Bernard Reilander of the Stamp Design Division, Canada Post Office. The likeness of Franklin is based on marble portrait by an anonymous Italian Sculptor.

In the upper left corner of the U.S. Stamp in blue appears "USA". Below in two lines of blue is "Bicentennial 1776-1976" and in lower left is "13 cents". The lettering on the map is also in blue coloring. The lettering on the Canadian stamp reads: "Canada, United States Bicentennial, Bicentennial des Etats Unis".

The Franklin stamps will be the second U.S.-Canadian joint issue. Stamps commemorating the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway were issued in Messina NY and Ottawa Ontario in June 1959. They were identical except for the caption and denomination. First-day cancellations of the stamps are available from Philadelphia, Pa. and from Ottawa Ontario for the Canadian stamps. Detailed information for ordering these are available at all Post Offices.

What would you do with 2000 lbs. of trash?

It's hard to believe that each of us produces 2,000 lbs. of trash a year, but it's true. Unfortunately, too much of this solid waste ends up on our highways, city streets, and many other places where it's not wanted.

Solid waste disposal is everyone's problem. Not only does it waste tax dollars, it's an eyesore. It doesn't have to be this way. If we work together to clean up what we mess-ed up, we can have one of the most attractive states in the country.

But one individual, or group of individuals can't do it alone. It's going to take all of us working collectively to get the job done. There's a Clean Up Mississippi Committee in your county that needs your help, right now.

Home loan applications increase

Applications for GI home loans during the first half of fiscal year 1976 were 15 percent higher than the total received during the same period in fiscal year 1975, Ralph H. Martin, loan guaranty officer for the VA in Jackson recently reported.

Loan guaranty staffs at 49 VA regional offices processed 182,900 loan applications from July through December, Martin said. In Mississippi, December applications were 25 percent higher than a year ago.

More than 362,000 GI loan applications were received during 1975, a six percent increase over the previous calendar year.

Appraisal requests also were running ahead of last year's figures. The 279,500 requests received during the first six months of FY 1976 were 14 percent higher than the number received during the first half of FY 1975. The 1975 calendar year total of 685,700 appraisal requests were seven percent above 1974 figures.

The Veterans Housing Act of 1974 relaxed restrictions on reinstating GI home loan eligibility. Previously, loan benefits could be restored only for "compelling reasons."

Since Jan. 1, 1975, the VA has been permitted to restore loan benefits whenever the property has been disposed of and the GI home loan paid in full.

exceed the reasonable value of the property as established by the VA.

Veterans who used their benefits before Dec. 31, 1974, may have some additional entitlement while technically obligated for an earlier loan. Maximum home loan benefits were raised from $4,000 to $7,500 in 1950, to $12,500 in 1968, and to $17,500 in 1974. The amount of additional eligibility would be the difference between the present $17,500 maximum and the amount of entitlement used on prior home loans.

Complete loan information may be obtained at any VA regional office or from representatives of local veterans organizations.

Landowners encouraged to apply for cost sharing

Landowners may now sign up for cost-sharing funds for forestry work during the 1976-77 season. Two programs are available for landowners to receive cost-sharing. One is under the Federal Incentives Program (FIP), which is administered by the Federal Government; the other is the Forest-Resource Development Program (FRDP), which is administered by the State.

Either program will pay 75 percent of forestry practice costs not to exceed the following allotment limits: $30 per acre for tree planting, $40 per acre for heavy site preparation work, $3.75 per acre for light site preparation work, $25 per acre for release work, and $2.25 per 100 linear feet for firebreak.

Now in their third year, the incentives programs are designed to encourage forestry practices aimed at increasing timber production

USM schedules elementary music workshop

A workshop in elementary music will be held June 29-July 2 at the University of Southern Mississippi, announced Dr. Katherine Crews, coordinator of the workshop and a member of the USM music education department.

The workshop is an intensive four-day course for elementary classroom teachers, music specialists, and special and physical education teachers, incorporating the major tenets of Orff-Schulwerk, the Kodaly Method, and the Laban Science of Movement brought together in a creative approach to vitalize learning in the American classroom.

Director of the workshop will be Grace C. Nash of Scottsdale, Ariz., a leading educator and consultant in child development with music, language and movement. She has served as a consultant and clinician for a number of federally and state funded programs and has conducted seminars and workshops in universities throughout the nation.

The workshop will emphasize combining muscular coordination and motor skills with speech and song in a phrase flow; developing techniques with percussion instruments and the recorder; learning the process of notation and ensemble that is "natural" and relevant to the student; and considering the hows and whys of the learning process.

Participants will receive two semester hours of credit.

Society asks for donations

Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., is asking for articles for their rummage sale to be held in May.

Anyone who has items to donate can leave them at 415 Pine Street, Waveland, or at 127 Washington Street, Bay St. Louis, or may call 467-3739 or 467-7173 and they will be collected.

The society is presently conducting its annual membership drive. Interested persons should mail dues ($7.50-couples, $5-individuals, $1-juniors) to Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., P.O. Box 471, Waveland, Ms. 39576.

Almost nine million GI home loans, valued at $118 billion, have been guaranteed since the program was established during World War II. Almost 4.6 million veterans have paid their loans in full, and thus could qualify for loan restoration if they dispose of the property which secured their loan.

The VA guarantees 60 percent of the loan up to a maximum of $17,500 of home loans made by private lenders to eligible service personnel and veterans of World War II and later periods. There is no limitation on the amount, except that the loan may not
